ENGINEERING STORIES - MEGAN HALL

Megan Hall, third year representative from "Engineering Stories"

"I am extremely excited to be the third year representative for a new project called "Engineering Stories," created by Eng-Cite and Geering Up. The aim of this project is to promote women in engineering at UBC through a vlog series which showcases the lives of four different female undergraduate engineers. I'm delighted to be able to share CHBE and the rest of UBC with perspective students! Feel free to check us out on Facebook or YouTube!"
